WEEKEND INSPIRATION: Clare Rojas Takes On Geometric Abstraction

November 08, 2013
Surf Collective NYC

Rojas's new paintings, drawings, poems and installations, which will be appearing tomorrow in an exhibition at Vladimir Restoin Roitfeld in New York, marks a shift from the former work she is known for, and toward geometric abstraction. Her bold, angular shapes and colors reflect well a balanced composition that will no doubt inspire.

This show will be more than worth the hike up to 78th street. But before making your way up to the opening, swing by The Guggenheim to see the Christopher Wool exhibition, it is on view until January 22nd (Images below), it is definitely worth it.

Clare Rojas exhibition will be on view from Nov. 11 through Dec. 15 at Vladimir Restoin Roitfeld, 5A East 78th Street.
